The Service Provider does not forward personal data to third parties.

If the Service Provider is acquired by another company or merged with another company, we may share your personal information with the successor.

Your personal data is processed by our authorized staff or agents based on the need-to-know principle, depending on the purposes for which they were collected.

Your rights concerning data processing:

The GDPR contains in detail your data protection rights, your possibilities of seeking a legal remedy and the restrictions thereof (especially sections 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 77, 78, 79 and 82 of the GDPR). You can request at any time information about your personal data processed, you can request the rectification and erasure of your personal data or the restriction of their processing, furthermore you can object to the data processing based on a legitimate interest. We summarize the most important provisions below.

We highlight that you may address your requests to the Data Controller or the Company specified above by this notice.

In particular, the Company will draw attention to the following when providing information: You have the right to object, on grounds relating to your particular situation, at any time to processing of personal data concerning you, which is based on the legitimate interests of the Company. The Company shall no longer process the personal data unless the Company demonstrates compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

Right to information:

If the Company processes your personal data, it must provide you information concerning the data relating to you – even without your special request thereof – including the main characteristics of the data processing just as the purpose, legal basis and period of processing, the identity and contact details of the Company and its representative, the contact details of the data protection officer (if relevant), the recipients of the personal data, the legitimate interests of the Company and/or third parties in case of a data processing based on a legitimate interest, furthermore your data protection rights and your possibilities of seeking a legal remedy (including the right of lodging a complaint with the supervisory authority), the source of personal data – if you are not the source –, as well as the categories of personal data, in the case you have not had yet all this information. The Company provides the abovementioned information by making this notice available to you.

Right of access:

You have the right to obtain from the Company confirmation as to whether or not personal data concerning you are being processed, and, where that is the case, access to the personal data and certain information related to the data processing such as the purpose of the data processing, the categories of the personal data processed, the recipients of the personal data, the (envisaged) period of data processing, the data subject's data protection rights and possibilities of seeking a legal remedy (including the right of lodging a complaint with the supervisory authority), furthermore information on the source of the data where they are not collected from you.

Upon your request the Company shall provide a copy of your personal data undergoing processing. For any further copies requested by you, the Company may charge a reasonable fee based on administrative costs. Where you made the request by electronic means, and unless otherwise requested by you, the information shall be provided in a commonly used electronic form. The right to obtain a copy shall not adversely affect the rights and freedoms of others.

The Company gives you information on the possibility, the procedure, the potential costs and other details of providing the copy after receiving your request.

Right to rectification:

You have the right to obtain from the Company without undue delay the rectification of inaccurate personal data concerning you. Taking into account the purposes of the processing, you have the right to have incomplete personal data completed, including by means of providing a supplementary statement.

Right to erasure:

You have the right to obtain from the Company the erasure of personal data concerning you without undue delay and the Company has the obligation to erase personal data without undue delay where certain grounds or conditions are given. Among other grounds the Company is obliged to erase your personal data upon your request for example if the personal data are no longer necessary in relation to the purposes for which they were collected or otherwise processed; if you withdraw your consent on which the processing is based, and where there is no other legal ground for the processing; if the personal data have been unlawfully processed; or if you object to the processing and there are no overriding legitimate grounds for the processing; if the personal data have to be erased for compliance with a legal obligation in Union or Member State law to which the Company is subject.

The above shall not apply to the extent that processing is necessary:

- a) for exercising the right of freedom of expression and information;
- b) for compliance with a legal obligation which requires processing by Union or Member State law to which the Company is subject;
- c) for archiving purposes in the public interest, scientific or historical research purposes or statistical purposes in so far as the right referred is likely to render impossible or seriously impair the achievement of the objectives of that processing;
- d) for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

Right to restriction of processing:

You have the right to obtain from the Company restriction of processing where one of the following applies:

- a) the accuracy of the personal data is contested by you, for a period enabling the Company to verify the accuracy of the personal data;
- b) the processing is unlawful and you oppose the erasure of the personal data and request the restriction of their use instead;
- c) the Company no longer needs the personal data for the purposes of the processing, but they are required by you for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims; or
- d) you have objected to processing, pending the verification whether the legitimate grounds of the Company override your legitimate grounds.

Where processing has been restricted according to the abovementioned reasons, such personal data shall, with the exception of storage, only be processed with your consent or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims or for the protection of the rights of another natural or legal person or for reasons of important public interest of the Union or of a Member State.

You shall be informed by the Company before the restriction of processing is lifted if the Company restricted data processing at your request as specified above.

Right to object:

You have the right to object, on grounds relating to your particular situation, at any time to processing of personal data concerning you, which is based on the legitimate interests of the Company. The Company shall no longer process the personal data unless the Company demonstrates compelling legitimate grounds for the processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms or for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims.

The framework of exercising rights:

The Company shall provide information on action taken on a request based on your abovementioned rights without undue delay and in any event within one month of receipt of the request. That period may be extended by two further months where necessary, taking into account the complexity and number of the requests. The Company shall inform you of any such extension within one month of receipt of the request, together with the reasons for the delay. Where you make the request by electronic form means, the information shall be provided by electronic means where possible, unless otherwise requested by you.

If the Company does not take action on your request, the Company shall inform you without delay and at the latest within one month of receipt of the request of the reasons for not taking action and on the possibility of lodging a complaint with the competent data protection supervisory authority (the National Authority for Data Protection and Freedom of Information; in Hungarian: ‘Nemzeti Adatvédelmi és Információszabadság Hatóság’; abbreviated as ‘NAIH’) and seeking a judicial remedy. Address, telephone number, fax number, e-mail address and website of the NAIH (1125 Budapest Szilágyi Erzsébetfásor 22/C., Tel: +36 1 391 1400, Fax: +36-1-391-1410, e-mail: ugyfelszolgalat@naih.hu, website: <http://naih.hu/>).

The information shall be provided by the Company in writing, or by other means, including, where appropriate, by electronic means. When requested by you, the information may be provided orally, provided that your identity is proven by other means.

Without prejudice to any other administrative or judicial remedy, you shall have the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority, in particular in the Member State of your habitual residence, place of work or place of the alleged infringement if you consider that the processing of personal data relating to you infringes the GDPR. You shall have the right to an effective judicial remedy against a legally binding decision of a supervisory authority concerning you. You shall further have the right to an effective judicial remedy where the competent supervisory authority does not handle your complaint or does not inform you within three months on the progress or outcome of the complaint lodged. Proceedings against a supervisory authority shall be brought before the courts of the Member State where the supervisory authority is established.

Without prejudice to any available administrative or non-judicial remedy, including the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority, you shall have the right to an effective judicial remedy where you consider that your rights under the GDPR have been infringed as a result of the processing of your personal data in non-compliance with the GDPR. Proceedings against the Company shall be brought before the courts of the Member State where the Company has an establishment. Alternatively, such proceedings may be brought before the courts of the Member State where you have your habitual residence. Such cases fall within the competence of the tribunal in Hungary. The procedure may also be initiated - at the choice of the data subject - at the tribunal of his/her domicile or place of residence. For further information on the competent courts (tribunals), please see: www.birosag.hu

We will do our best concerning your personal data shared with us, to provide you with the right to self-determination, where possible. You may have the right to manage your personal data in addition to exercising the rights of the data subject through the following mechanisms:

- Cookies and similar technologies: in connection with your consent (a) our solution for managing data processing consents (to apply or change the recommended cookie settings) or (b) you can set in your browser which cookies and similar technologies are not allowed to be notified of their use. You can find more information on this in our Cookie Policy (https://bdselsoacsalad.hu/assets/doc/cookie_policy.pdf).

Your personal data will be kept secret and secure by appropriate measures (as specified below). However, we note that the following security measures do not cover information that you voluntarily share on public sites such as third-party social media websites. Any such sharing and similar activity is subject to the data protection notice of that website.

In the operating environment for storing your personal data, we have put in place security measures that can be expected to be proportionate to the risks involved in processing data to prevent unauthorized access.

It is important that you also take security measures concerning your personal data. When creating an online account, please choose a hard-to-guess password and never share it with others. Please keep your password secret or use your account responsibly. If you are using a shared or public computer, never allow the browser / application you are using to remember your login ID / email or password and always sign out if you no longer use your computer. Please use the cookie settings on our website.

More information on the processing of photos and videos made by the Service Provider:

The Service Provider prepares photographs and video recordings on data subjects appearing at events organised by it. The Service Provider processes the photo and video recordings made at the events in a separated way until their appearance: it stores the photos and videos in question in a separate folder on its network electronically.

The Service Provider shall give the persons concerned the opportunity to make a statement, consent or not to consent to the use of the photographs and video recordings made of them by the Service Provider in accordance with the provisions of this Notice (not including recordings on public performances or mass recordings). The photographs and video recordings made will be used in accordance with the consents primarily on the social media site of the Service Provider (<https://www.facebook.com/csaladbaratmagyarorszag/>) and on its webpage. The Service Provider publishes photos and videos of the data subjects on its social media site and on its website in the form of posts, reports and media library that can be accessed by natural persons following or visiting the social media site and website; by giving consent, the data subject acknowledges that the Data Controller and Data Processor reserve the right to publish the photographs and videos in accordance with this Notice, for which the Service Provider allows the enforceability of affected rights for natural persons affected by data processing. In the case of indirect photograph and video recording of natural persons who have not contributed to the data processing (e.g. because it is a photo of a natural person who gave his consent, and the affected person appears in any way in the background on the video recording), the Service Provider ensures that the right to self-determination of these persons concerning their data is not compromised by the fact that the photographs and videos on which they appear are not published or made available to the general public or merely by making such persons unrecognizable on the given material. The Service Provider shall immediately delete the photograph and video of the affected person who subsequently requests the deletion of the photograph and video taken of it (irrespective of whether the Service Provider has published the photo or the video). In addition to that, the Service Provider deletes recordings on public performances and mass recording if the data subject exercises its right to object rightfully.

In the event of a change in the data processing practices of the Service Provider, this Notice will be reviewed. We reserve the right to change our practices and this Notice at any time (for example, in view of changes in legislation or the needs of data subjects), so please check regularly to see if there has been any change in the text of this Notice when you visit this website. The Service Provider informs you about the material changes of the Notice in an appropriate manner.
